| May 8, 2016Series: Relationships Made New                                 | Doug RuttPastor-Teacher |  |
|---|-----------------------------|--|
| Series. Relationships Made New  |                             |  |
| Insiders Made New As ProclaimersColossians 4:3-4                          |                             |  |
| "That I may make it clear in the way I ought to speak ." |                             |  |
|   |                             |  |
| ◆The "door" is opened by for the  |                             |  |
|   |                             |  |
|   |                             |  |
| ◆ "it" is the The   | ·                           |  |
|   |                             |  |
|   | 3b                          |  |
|   |                             |  |
| ♦ "clear" is an explanation that is both and                                  |                             |  |
| • clear is an explanation that is both and                                    |                             |  |
|   |                             |  |
| <ul> <li>"I ought" indicates a</li> </ul>                                     | _ to proclaim.              |  |
|   |                             |  |
| <ul> <li>"speak" indicates a requirement to not only the</li> </ul>           | truth,                      |  |
| but the truth.  |                             |  |
|   |                             |  |

May 8, 2016 Series: Relationships Made New Doug Rutt Pastor-Teacher

Insiders Made New As Proclaimers Colossians 4:3-4

"That I may make it clear in the way I ought to speak."

◆The "door" is opened by God for the Word of God.

• "it" is the mystery of Christ. The Gospel of grace.

• "it" is worthy of personal sacrifice. 3b

• "clear" is an explanation that is both accurate and understandable.

• "I ought" indicates a personal responsibility to proclaim.

• "speak" indicates a requirement to not only live the truth, but verbalize the truth.